OPENING DAY AT THE VARIETY STORES OF THOS. C. FOLEY

With a steady rush of business the Variety Stores on Washington which lasted throughout the day, Foley avenue, officially ushered in business today. Thomas C. Foley announced that the opening was very satisfactory and that the force of thirty clerks had been kept busy at all times. The store has a large number of different departments, including a basement which is a complete store in itself.

Everyone who visited the store today was presented with a red carnation and sprig of green leaves as a memento of the occasion.

"We have started at a very opportune time," Mr. Foley said, "and I think we shall fill a place in the business life of Ogden. The opening has been most pleasing."

U. P. ANSWER IN THE PARRIN DAMAGE SUIT

The Union Pacific railroad has filed an answer to the complaint of Mrs. Elizabeth Mabel Perrin, administrator of the estate of Arthur O. Perrin, deceased, denying responsibility for the death of Mr. Perrin, which occurred several months ago on the company's lines in Wyoming.

Mrs. Perrin sued the company for damages, alleging that a train had been started carelessly while her husband was between two cars coupling them. He was killed as a result of the train starting.

The company in its answer charges that the Perrins met death as a result of their own carelessness; that he went between the cars before they had come to a stop and that he was perfectly aware of the danger of coupling and should have been one the look out.

QUESTIONNAIRE IS TO BE MAILED BY LOCAL DRAFT BOARD

The office of the city exemption board has been transferred from the city recorder's office in the city hall to the University Club building, on the corner of Twenty-sixth street and Washington avenue. The new quarters have been donated by Mayor Heywood and are comfortably fitted up with furniture and office fixtures. Clerk Walter Richey and his assistant will be at the office so that anyone desiring information may call there.

The board will start Monday, addressing questionnaires to each of the 2,784 registrants in its jurisdiction. It is expected this task will occupy several days. The questionnaires will be mailed on December 15.

One man applied to the board today for registration. He is George Wilford Laux, aged 25 years, a hardware salesman for the George A. Lowe company. Mr. Laux did not register on June 5 because he was ill and could not get to the registration place or secure a proxy. He was recommended by the local army recruiting officer as deserving of special attention by the board and he was accordingly registered.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to extend our sincere and heartfelt thanks to our friends and neighbors for their kindness and assistance during the sickness and death of our beloved mother, Mrs. Mary Russell.

Society

EAGLES' DANCE.
Thursday evening of this week the Eagles gave a Thanksgiving dancing party in their home on Grant avenue. A large number of club members and their friends enjoyed the evening.

CRADLE ROLL.
The Cradle Roll of the Presbyterian church was elaborately entertained on Wednesday of last week at a Thanksgiving children's party and luncheon. The mothers and their little ones were treated to a number of Thanksgiving surprises and a novel and timely luncheon was served. The following were the hostesses, Mrs. Albert Whitmeyer, Mrs. Franklin C. Osgood, Mrs. J. A. Jones, Mrs. Marie Ward, Mrs. Alvin Mortensen and Mrs. A. Y. Richmond.

OGDEN CHAUTAUQUA READING CIRCLE.
The Ogden Chautauqua Reading circle met Monday evening last, with Mrs. J. G. Falck at her home, 2665 Monroe avenue, when one of the most entertaining of this season's meetings was held.

Mrs. F. W. Cole was leader of the evening's program and Mrs. Claude Armstrong gave a splendidly lucid talk on the chapter of Ferrero's history devoted to Nero. This oral review was exceptionally entertaining to all present and the view of Nero's family life, his over-weening ambitions and final demoralization presented a somewhat new angle in the life of that notorious ruler.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Malone, who were to have presented a review of Julia and Tiberius, were absent and these chapters were offered by Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Falck with a discussion that was of interest to all present.

Current items were informally and entertainingly discussed by the members in the absence of Mrs. Richmond. Mrs. Georgina Marriott, Rev. and Mrs. Christian Garver and Mrs. Ririe were guests of the circle.

VISITING FRIENDS.
Mrs. William Purdie and daughter, Vera, are visiting in Lewiston and Logan with relatives and friends.

BAPTIST KENSINGTON.
The Baptist Kensington met in the church parlors last Wednesday afternoon and spent a few busy hours. At 6:30 o'clock supper was served to their families.

SEMPRE MUSICAL CLUB.
The Sempre Musical society will meet tonight with Miss Cleone Rich as hostess. A splendid program of musical and literary numbers will be given.

ST. JOSEPH'S SEWING SOCIETY.
Friday afternoon of this week, St. Joseph's sewing society met in the church parlors with Mrs. Jack De Bano as hostess.

TO MEET ON MONDAY.
The Red Cross unit of Miriam chapter, No. 14, O. E. S. will meet next 2 o'clock in the Masonic club rooms. A full attendance is desired by the officers in charge.

HOUSE GUEST OF MRS. PUTNAM.
Mrs. H. S. Fillmore, a prominent resident of Los Angeles, Cal., will arrive in Ogden today to be the house guest of Mrs. A. W. Putnam, 469 Thirteenth street. Mrs. Fillmore is enroute east but will spend a few weeks with Mrs. Putnam who two years ago visited her and was extensively entertained.
